Warracknabeal Town Map & Creek Walk

A striking feature of the creek is the largely undisturbed quality of the trees lining its banks. It is estimated that some of the older River Red Gums (E.camaldulensis) and Black Box (E.largiflorens) are 700 to 800 hundred years old. Make a point of inspecting the magnificent Yellow Gum (E.leucoxyon) on the west bank near the ski area that would be a least 500 years old. Many of the species of birds and the occasional wallaby can be seen along the creek. The best times for bird watching are in the early morning and evening.
